

A5004 SAFER ROADS FUND BUXTON TO WHALEY BRIDGE POSSIBLE AVERAGE SPEED CAMERA COLUMN ALTERNATIVES

Photograph showing standard high visibility passively safe column in Traffic Yellow colour. This is the most common configuration with more than 400 columns like this across the UK.

Photograph showing an alternative grey column colour with yellow camera support arm which has been used in a number of National Parks (The Trossachs, Cairngorm) and in Cumbria. Overall, the conspicuity is reduced, but there is still a visible presence.

CONTROLLED

Photograph showing an alternative green colour column with yellow camera support arm, which has been used in a number of areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty. This colour has received some criticism for being camouflaged, as the column can seem to disappear if surrounded by foliage.

Photograph showing an alternative brown colour with yellow camera support arm, as an option. Overall, the conspicuity is reduced but there is still a visible presence.
